The Prevention conference included information on enforcing laws to solve public health problems from the website of The Network for Public Health Law at: www.networkforphl.org Good data sources can be found in the “health in practice” report at: http://healthinpractice.org/ and the Wisconsin Clearinghouse “back pack” has all the outlines and Power Points from this event at: http://www.wiclearinghouse.org/backpack.html She also encouraged us to look at the County Health Road maps at: www.countyhealthrankings.org and she discussed the “social math” that looks at the burden of excessive alcohol use.
