April 2014

The Northwoods Breastfeeding Coalition (NWBC) is pleased to share with you the April 2014 updated Breastfeeding Resource Guide. The Guide covers Oneida, Vilas, Forest, and Price Counties. The Guide is intended to support and facilitate breastfeeding. We hope that as health-care providers and professionals, lactation consultants, and breastfeeding peer counselors, you will use and widely share the Guide to support pregnant and breastfeeding mothers.

The guide lists certified, registered and trained breastfeeding professionals to call with breastfeeding questions from our local:

- Hospitals
- Clinics
- Medical Groups
- Health Departments
- WIC Programs
- Tribal Health Centers
- Childbirth Classes

In addition, you will find helpful listings on:

- Childbirth Classes, local
- Drugs, Breastmilk & Breastfeeding
- Breast Pumps
- Helpful breastfeeding websites
- LaLeche League

You can find the Breastfeeding Resource Guide as a PDF at our website: oneidacountypublichealth.org/?p=628. You can also find us on Facebook: Northwoods Breastfeeding Coalition. Please Like us so you can become a part of our local breastfeeding conversation.

We encourage you to share and post this guide in your facility. We encourage you to share this important breastfeeding resource with other healthcare providers (pharmacists, anesthesiologists, radiologists, internists, obstetricians, pediatricians, dentists, etc.) professionals, lactation consultants, educators, breastfeeding peer counselors, as well as with pregnant and breastfeeding mothers and their families.

Since 2006, the Northwoods Breastfeeding Coalition has promoted, supported and protected breastfeeding in the Northwoods of Wisconsin. Please contact us if we can be of further assistance.

Thank you,
